

#BusinessIsGood

Colliers Boston's civic engagement philosophy is to ensure that we support our clients, employees and our community in a meaningful way. We believe it is part of our responsibility to be good corporate citizens by investing in and supporting organizations committed to improving the business climate in the region.

We are active participants and financial contributors to organizations including: MBR, Mass Biotech Council, A Better City, Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, NAIOP, and most recently we joined Greentown Labs. Given the nature of our work, we have focused on real-estate related organizations.

We also feel it is appropriate to support charities, the most important of which is the United Way of Massachusetts Bay. In addition, we are long-time supporters of the Boys and Girls Club and Big Brother Big Sister.

However, like many organizations we are unable to support all of the requests we receive. We prioritize our investment in organizations where we are able to make the most impact through both a financial contribution and our employees' service to the organization.

We believe that the Colliers Boston office has been very supportive of both civic engagement and charitable organizations with a common thread of improving our overall economy and helping those less fortunate than ourselves.
